

THE WAR ON THE C.P.R. MONOPOLY

The Winnipeg Papers and Toronto Globe-Sunday Staff C.P.R. Telegraphic Service.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 6.—The Winnipeg morning papers both gave special prominence yesterday to western and eastern comment on the action of the C. P. R. in cutting off the news service at Nelson. The Free Press returns to the fray editorially under the heading, "The Fight Against Monopoly," as follows: "The story published in the Toronto Globe that the C. P. R. Telegraphic Service had cut off its service from the Nelson (B. C.) News because the newspaper criticized the corporation is true. Elsewhere we publish a statement from the News which shows the true character of the statement. It is not so many years since a C. P. R. official waited upon the editor of the Free Press and told him in plain English that if the paper's editorial course was not made more acceptable to the railway, it would be deprived of its news service. A more or less polite invitation to take himself and his news service elsewhere was followed by no more than a courteous refusal. But in the case of the Nelson News, less favorably situated than the Free Press, the C. P. R. monopoly has been less than a polite invitation. The W. A. P. to furnish it with a press service. The railway has employed and the News has thus been able to continue furnishing the news to its readers. Three months ago, the News would have been helpless. The cutting off of the news service would have killed the paper, then, the Western Associated Press was called in to supply the news. It was the C. P. R. monopoly that made the News as easily as possible. It is difficult living fully up to its opportunities. The experience of the Nelson News ought to make it clear that a newspaper cannot make a clear and honest newspaper that the Western Associated Press is their only safeguard against the corporation. The Winnipeg papers are not only to treat the C. P. R. hostility with the same vigor that corporation has no monopoly in this city. The Winnipeg newspapers are sitting back and waiting for the day when they have many avenues of news and stronger support than they now meet any situation that arises. But the situation with respect to the Nelson News is different. They must fight for freedom now or wait until the position of the Nelson News is such that a public fed on personal news may suffer from a change of diet. So far as this fight, the newspapers can count upon the support of the aroused public.

FRANCHISE FOR WOMAN AND IS DESIRED BY W. C. C. U.

Resolution in Favor of Women's Voting Carried Unanimously by Delegates Saturday—Responsibility That Rests With Western Women to Maintain High Moral Standard.

Saturday at the convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was the day of important decisions on topics—the business day of the meeting.

On Friday the question of the extension of the franchise to women was thoroughly considered and action deferred, so on Saturday the grave matter of women's franchise was put before the assembly by Mrs. Edwards of Macleod, a motion in favor of women's voting being unanimously carried by the delegates.

Sunday Night Address.

Last night Mrs. Gordon-Wright, Dominion President, gave a forcible address upon the problems of the Union, and spoke in Canada. The address was followed by a large audience. Mrs. Craig of Ode provided and Mrs. Keeler sang during the evening. The speaker, Mrs. Gordon-Wright, said that the extension of the franchise to women was a great step, and that the women of Canada were to be congratulated for their action. She said that the women of Canada were to be congratulated for their action. She said that the women of Canada were to be congratulated for their action.

Responsibility of Women.

It was a grave problem, and one whose roots ran deeply into the history of the country, so the mothers and fathers of the country were to be congratulated for their action. She said that the women of Canada were to be congratulated for their action. She said that the women of Canada were to be congratulated for their action.

Winnipeg Telegram's Hot Shot.

The Telegram's chief editor is a hot shot. Under the title, "Hastening Its Own Doom," it says as follows: "The conduct of the C. P. R. telegraph company, extra-territorial, is an arbitrary act. It is not without its reprehensible features. It is just such high-handed action that public opinion is demanding to be drastic measures. Many a monopoly has flourished for no other reason than its ability to avoid friction in its dealings with the public. That is where a genius of the administration of these concerns comes in. Its danger lies in the success which breeds tyranny and abuse with it. The fatal decision that the public will not stand for anything. In this manner a privilege under which the public suffers will often adjust itself with amazing swiftness. We have had numerous examples of these adjustments in the United States and many more are in process of adjustment. It looks as if we are in a fair way to have some of them in Canada.

The C. P. R. Telegraphic Company has virtually forced itself upon the public as a monopoly in need of control if not extermination. On a recent small investigation has been made into the matter. To secure these facts it has denied the public sufficient news; it has made no effort to anticipate the expansion of the country, and it has refused to accept the expansion of the country. Canada particularly, has been maintained at a figure which has been the cause of the country. The people of Western Canada have been disappointed. They have waited with surprising patience for some relief from its gross mismanagement. They have waited in vain. They have been deceived. The service has been given to the public. The service has been given to the public. The service has been given to the public.

CANADA SHOULD THANK ENGLAND

Montreal, Oct. 6.—Speaking today at St. Milaire where he gave a public lecture, Hon. J. P. Broder, Minister of Marine, who has just returned from the treaty-making trip to France, said that when the new treaty was published it would not fail to satisfy public opinion in this country. Hon. Mr. Broder said the old treaty had to be amended or a new one framed, and with the English condition in mind he went to work as loyal son of Canada and the Empire to frame a treaty that would be to the advantage of both France and the Dominion. The speaker expounded the case that England and France wanted the lion share when any negotiations were going on and he said England had shown the greatest generosity towards Canada when she returned the Dominion the right to negotiate along the treaty that had just been concluded. DEAR GOODS AND CHEAP LABOR

 The Canadian Manufacturers' Association was formed to protect the interests of the Canadian manufacturer and to secure for him the best possible conditions of trade.

The annual meeting held in Montreal last week was characterized by a demand that foreign manufacturers on all kinds be debarred from this country and by another demand that American factories be admitted without let or hindrance.

This from the organization that has presumed to teach loyalty to the Canadian farmer and urged the vote for protection unless he wished to see Canadian factories closed, Canadian workmen idle and Canadian wages and children in misery and want.

These dual announcements written down the ideals and objects of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in characters that cannot be obscured by professions of loyalty to Canadian interests, or appeals to the patriotism of Canadian citizens. An organization that demands first that the Canadian consumer be prevented from buying foreign goods and secondly that the Canadian workman be brought into competition with the cheapest labor in the world, will be excused from reading before him commercial patriotism to the consumers and workers of Canada.

The standing defence which the apologists for high protection put forward for the benefit of the manufacturer is that the manufacturers out of their increased earnings would pay higher wages to the men who worked in their factories and thus provide a better home market for the produce of the Canadian farmer.

The only purpose the Canadian Manufacturers can have in desiring the free importation of Asiatic labor is to bring that labor into competition with the Canadian workman to the end that the Canadian workman may be forced to work for less wages. It should be the duty of the Canadian Workmen to stand where he would get off if the party which represents the views of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association succeeded in power in Canada.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association is an organization which attacks strictly the business of its members. When subjects of general or public import receive attention in its conventions the standpoint from which they are discussed is the standpoint of the manufacturer and the conclusion reached is the conclusion that appears most likely to advance the interests of the manufacturer against all others. When therefore the Canadian Manufacturers' Association resolve that Asiatic labor should be introduced freely into Canada it means simply that the manufacturer sees an opportunity to profit by the introduction of that labor. And he does not profit by the introduction of that labor only by engaging that labor to displace workers who demand higher pay.

If the Manufacturers' Association were a debating club whose purpose were limited to the cultivation of the oratorical and mental powers of its members it would be entirely in order in coming to this or any other conclusion to which the trend of academic debate might lead. The Association is nothing of the kind. Its members are inspired not by any desire to move men along a line of supposed progress, but by the laudable but more common desire to move money along the avenue that leads to their own private domains. Carnegie and not Demosthenes is their patron saint, and from the resolution of last week they are quite prepared to adapt the methods of Mr. Carnegie to accomplish his results.

Those who have dared to question the wisdom of high protection doctrine and ventured to express a preference for a low tariff or free trade have been ridiculed and belittled by the high protectionists as the advocates of low wages. Low tariff, we have been told, and told at each succeeding election campaign, means low prices and low prices mean low wages. With equal unctiousness we periodically assured that if the manufacturers were given the chance to make larger profits, they from the plenitude of their hearts would pay higher wages to their employees. These would thus be enabled to pay the farmer more for his produce, and so by the simple process of taxing ourselves high enough we should make ourselves all rich and happy.

The Manufacturers' Association is now to confute the favorite doctrine of its political allies. They demand not only high tariff but cheap labor—the highest kind of tariff and the cheapest kind of labor. They want a tariff that will exclude all foreign-made goods but a policy that will admit all foreign makers of goods, and all foreigners who might become makers of goods. For the consumers of goods they would deny the possibility of importation; but to them selves as the "consumers" of labor they demand the best kind of free trade.

This demand of the manufacturers is no innovation—it is merely a confession of what is on the other side of the high protection banner. High protection as we have it preached in Canada means the commercial slavery of the consumer to the proprietor of the factory, on the word of the manufacturers themselves the other motto in the banner is the slavery of the workman to the proprietor of the factory. The ideal then is a condition of affairs in which the manufacturer would be monarch of all he surveyed and the remainder of the populace would live on such wages and in such fashion as his mighty deity might decree or his industry permit.

Why or how should it be otherwise if the high protection principle is sound? If the manufacturer is to dominate all the people in the country, why not a particular section of the people who are employed in his factory? If he may display his sovereignty by taxing all classes in one way why not by taxing one class in another way? If he may decide how many Americans the people in his factory shall buy and what they shall pay for them, why not as well the conditions under which those articles shall be produced? Shall he or shall be employed in producing them and what wages shall he pay for their production? If the manufacturer is to be monarch of all he surveyed, monarch of our commercial realm on what ground could his power be limited in one direction?

If the manufacturer does not intend to be limited in any direction he has made clear in the last resolution calling for the exclusion of all foreign manufacture and the absolute admission of the cheapest known labor. Or these are the terms on which he would be King. If the consumer and the workman fancy the terms they should proceed to his coronation.

A CALGARY VIEW.

(Alberta.)
 If Edmonton gets a bargain from the private corporations which is as good as the one that has been secured by Calgary, Edmonton will secure something in any city yet got, or is ever likely to get.

As this problem affects Edmonton more than it does Calgary, it may be said that any Calgary person who expresses an opinion is going to read his head, and minding the business of others. And to a certain extent this may be true. At the same time it is a source of more than ordinary regret that a city which has been on prominent as a public opinion advocate as Edmonton has been the champion of its principles without any excuse.

NO ANSWER YET.

(Calgary Alberta.)
 Mr. S. McCarthy, at a meeting of the Conservative Club, had an opportunity of making a more definite statement regarding the position of the party as made at a previous meeting of that body.

At the previous meeting Mr. McCarthy said that the Conservatives had called for the ballots had been honestly dealt with. In the last election the ballots were counted by Chief Justice Duffin, and then no objection was made at all. Why then does Mr. McCarthy come along some years later and refer to irregularities? If there were irregularities why does not Mr. McCarthy mention them?

The Alberta now appeals to Dr. McRae, who has started in to make a moral reformation in political parties and members of parties, to get his influence upon Mr. McCarthy to get him to make an explanation or come out with his error.

IMPRESSIONS OF BORDEN'S CALGARY MEETING

Few public meetings have been held in the west where a larger or better audience was assembled than that which attended Mr. Borden's meeting in Calgary on Friday evening last.

The Conservatives had been working up their enthusiasm for day and night, everything was done to ensure success, the faithful came out in force ready to cheer for the old party and its new leader. Hundreds of Canadians attended and the speaker was crowded in the door, the aisles were jammed, and the people were packed so close together that it was a relief to yell.

Even to one who did not agree with Mr. Borden, it was a sort of a melancholy affair that almost made one sigh for half an hour of R. B. Bennett's speech. What a shaking up of the party! What a shaking up of the party!

The only evidence of a real cheer was upon the introduction of Mr. S. McCarthy, M.P. He spoke but briefly, and then gave way to his leader. Mr. Borden was well introduced. The usual references to his loyalty, his integrity, his courage were made by all the other speakers, which makes one wonder why these features of the opposition leader need to be called attention to in this way. Have they been so rare in that party's leaders in the past?

Mr. Borden's grandstand play upon that plank in his platform was not a success. He seemed to have the control of Owen lands in his grasp, and I don't believe that any one in the hall will gain any fact that a better argument would be made by Mr. Borden. He tackled the Japanese question, and after skating carefully around it wound up by expressing the "hope" that "some solution" for it would be found in time.

He made the impression that W. T. R. Procter was responsible for the present Japanese immigration, possibly to show that he possesses the qualities of a great statesman. Civil service reform and the nationalization of the telegraph were his last topics, but what a backbone the first question would have been if only Mr. Borden had been present. He spent very little time on these subjects, and I don't believe he was too wise in mind. In his effort to make a record for himself, he declared it to be worth today $250,000, which probably explains why it is so necessary to tell the public how honest Mr. Borden is in his statements.

Mr. Borden is in his own right a mighty, possibly some one will tell the leader how it would work out in the end. He is a very good speaker, and his delivery was not a bad thing to present his half day programme, especially the last hour.

Among other statements just to show his broad-mindedness and tolerance, Mr. Borden stated that no person was a true citizen or a decent man if he would support the Liberal party. His speech ended without a word about the tariff policy of the Conservative party, and to some was deemed in either a serious or comprehensive manner. The high rate of custom duties was entirely absent, there was no ringing declaration of a policy of Canadian government, there was no ringing declaration of a policy of Canadian government, there was no ringing declaration of a policy of Canadian government.

His skillful evasion of facts and his ability to entertain were the chief characteristics of his presentation. His puns efforts to belittle Hon. W. S. Fielding on the ground that he needed to consult the people and the members of the Commons before revising the tariff, did not strike the mark, and the file of the party. His crowning achievement was a statement that could be compiled from some campaign literature and as well or better delivered by a half dozen people who sat upon the platform at the meeting.

THE FARMERS ARE NOT DISCOURAGED

In the Vegreville District—A Part of Crop Frosted, But Remainder of Yield Good.

Bulletin Staff Correspondence.

Vegreville, Oct. 5.—Nobody in this district is discouraged over the crops. On the whole the crops of 1907 have been a success in the district. Reports from the country and south to the effect that farmers and ranchers will have abundance of food and grain for their live stock which for years has been the main wealth of the district. The farmers and ranchers have never had much of it to their stock.

For the balance of their grain, especially their oats, they have always had a home market among the incoming settlers and the railway construction camps. Late crops have been frost occasionally but that has never spoiled the grain for feeding.

This year there has been a considerable percentage of the grain frosted, but on the other hand, there is as great a percentage of the crop that has come through the adverse season fully matured and equal to any results of former years. A larger number of cattle will be fed this year for the May market than last year. The cattle are now well fleshed and in excellent condition to stand the winter season.

During the days of the Vegreville fair, a Bulletin representative met farmers from every part of the district—from Andrew, Whitford, Brossure, Powerville and Waverley, in the north, and from Gilpin, Martin's and Vermilion valley on the south.

The testimony of the farmers is cheerful and bears out the statement that Alberta's harvest of 1907 is by no means a failure or even a partial failure, because a few late frosts have been tipped by unusual and untimely frosts.

S. A. Richardson, a director of the Vegreville Agricultural Society, stated yesterday that he had 125 acres of crop this year, which is all out. 50 acres of his oats will make No. 1 feed and will yield from 50 to 60 bushels per acre. The rest is good feed which will all be consumed by his herd of 250.

"The ranchers," said Mr. Richardson, "are in good shape this year. There are plenty of cattle and they are in splendid shape. I never had cattle do so well."

Thomas Hall, of Whitford, when interviewed, said he had 100 acres of wheat which took two bulls every two acres. The sample is fair and will come up to grade. He has 25 acres of oats that will run 60 bushels. His barley will make good feed.

"We'll pull through this year better than ever," he said. "We have plenty of grain, but don't want to sell it. We prefer to feed it."

Mr. Halliday, of Halliday & McNeil, of the International Harvester Co., has travelled over the entire district this year. He says one half of the oats will be good enough for milking, eighty per cent will do for feed the rest have been cut for green fodder. He stated that the farmers were making their settlements this fall as promptly as ever and there was no great scarcity of money among them around Vegreville.

Hughes Bros., Whitford, are good authorities on anything that pertains to farmers and stock. They were among the principal live stock exhibitors at the fair. To the Bulletin, Mr. Hughes spoke most enthusiastically of the conditions this year, especially as they affected himself. He has 110 acres of crop. Seventy acres are under oats. Of this acreage sixteen acres are perfectly matured and ripe. The remainder are excellent for feed. Fifty acres will run 75 bushels to the acre. The remainder will easily run 50 bushels. "This is a conservative estimate," said Mr. Hughes. In addition Mr. Hughes has 40 acres of barley half of which is perfectly ripened. The other half is slightly frosted and will make excellent feed stock. Last year this firm fed 4,000 bushels of oats. This year they have 170 cattle, 80 horses and 20 pigs and 1,500 bushels of old wheat in the granary.

George Johnson, of Whitford, has 50 acres of crop which he thinks is slightly injured by frost. He, however, has 500 bushels of old oats, no cattle and fifteen horses.

Alex. McLeod, who was an exhibitor at the fair and a prize winner, lives twelve miles south of Vegreville. He has 25 acres of No. 1 oats that will run 50 bushels. Besides he has 25 acres of oats later which will make feed and has a plenty of stock to consume his grain.

John Munts has 60 acres of Tatar King oats which were sown early in the spring. He has 1,000 bushels of last year's crop.

There are a few farmers in the district who are not so well off. Turner and James Killoran, nine miles northwest of Vegreville, are behind in their crop of oats at 40 bushels all around.

H. T. Payne who won several prizes in the grain competition, estimates that one-third to one-half of the oats in the district will be lost. There are a few good fields of wheat. Conditions for wheat growing will improve when a greater area of the district is harvested. Mr. Payne in speaking of the various crops of the district said that he preferred Big Four, Banner and Tatar King in the order named. He said Mr. Payne was told by A. W. Wilson, Harry Poyer, who sells machinery for the Massey-Harris Co., said he has visited on an average ten farmers a day. He states that the reports of damages as stated in the Winnipeg papers are all exaggerated. North of Brandon and St. Paul de Milette he says that there is positively no damage. Oats will run 70 and wheat 25 bushels per acre.

Frederic Fawcett, of Warlock, out of a total of 70 acres of oats, has 50 acres that are matured and will run 60 bushels per acre. It for seed. His barley is also a safe bet.

Joseph Stonehecker has 100 acres of oats, 25 acres are in oats, much will make seed. S. A. Kirkwood, who was a prize winner at the fair, says there is a sufficient supply of seed oats in the country. He spoke of a bushel of oats that he had raised, which he said that it was a large percentage that will be sown out and found to be of good quality.

Judge Lost Control of Himself.

Remijne, Minn., Oct. 6.—Overcome by the tragic significance of his task when about to sentence two men to death on the gallows for having taken the lives of two other men, Judge W. N. McClenahan, of the fifth district court, collapsed on the bench on Saturday afternoon. Martin Mann, convicted of murder at Spooner early in the summer of August Franklin, was before Judge McClenahan for sentence and Peter Matheson, who killed John Johnson at Gull Lake last February, was awaiting sentence.

Alex. McLeod, who was an exhibitor at the fair and a prize winner, lives twelve miles south of Vegreville. He has 25 acres of No. 1 oats that will run 50 bushels. Besides he has 25 acres of oats later which will make feed and has a plenty of stock to consume his grain.

John Munts has 60 acres of Tatar King oats which were sown early in the spring. He has 1,000 bushels of last year's crop.

There are a few farmers in the district who are not so well off. Turner and James Killoran, nine miles northwest of Vegreville, are behind in their crop of oats at 40 bushels all around.

H. T. Payne who won several prizes in the grain competition, estimates that one-third to one-half of the oats in the district will be lost. There are a few good fields of wheat. Conditions for wheat growing will improve when a greater area of the district is harvested. Mr. Payne in speaking of the various crops of the district said that he preferred Big Four, Banner and Tatar King in the order named. He said Mr. Payne was told by A. W. Wilson, Harry Poyer, who sells machinery injured when a through express-bound passenger train ran into a group of men about to board the local train at Grey on Saturday night. The injured were taken to the hospital here.

Pickpocket Got $200.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 6.—A smart pickpocket, who had been working for him in the Toronto branch of the bank of Hamilton on Saturday noon and got away with the money. Broadham had just cashed the cheque, and was standing at the window when he felt the man crowd him. When he missed the cash he accused the man of taking the money, but the reply was a plump denial. The man agreed to stay in the bank while a policeman was brought in and when Broadham went out for this purpose the stranger walked a few minutes and then disappeared. The bank officials are blamed for not detaining the alleged thief.

Child Suffocated in Fire.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 6.—A fire in a tailor shop and boarding house on York street, kept by a man named Ormstein, today caused the death of Ormstein's seven-year-old daughter, who was jammed between the bed and the wall and suffocated, and serious injury to several inmates of the house. Six men and women jumped from the upper windows and sustained no injuries, one man's foot being smashed. Mr. Ormstein, mother of the little girl, may die, and a man named Pierson was so badly burned he is not expected to recover. His wife was insensible when taken out, but recovered in fresh air.

SPORTING NEWS

VEGREVILLE SPORTS.

Vegreville, October 5.—The citizens of Vegreville are enthusiastically devoted to sport. It is no trouble to get up a horse race, foot race, lawn ball or football match in an hour's notice. As a result, the various sporting organizations in the town this year have been successful and have carried the trophies in almost every line of sport. The basketball team played in all about 25 games this season and won every game. The Vegreville basketball team knows that they have been the most successful amateur sporting organization in the province. This honor has been claimed by the Calgary amateurs, but the president of the basketball club here stated to your correspondent that the Vegreville team would meet the Calgary team in Edmonton or even in Calgary if suitable terms can be arranged.

The devotion to sport attracts many young men to the town and materially contributes to its development and successful advancement.

During the days of the fair a splendid program of races and athletic sports was given. The purses hanging up were not large, but it was not as much for money as for the love of the sport that such enthusiasm was displayed by the competitors.

The following is the list of the winners in the races:
Pony Race—J. A. Craig, Viking.
2 P. Slinger, Vegreville.
Novelty Race, three-quarter mile—J. A. Craig, Viking.

1 mile—J. A. Craig, Viking.
One mile, free for all, 2 in 3—J. A. Craig, Viking.
